

IN UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA

CASE NO.: 9:15-cv-80388-DMM

LARRY KLAYMAN,

Plaintiff,

HILLARY CLINTON, ET AL.,

Defendants.

PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO AMEND COMPLAINT AND MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN SUPPORT THEREOF

Pursuant to Rule 15 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("FRCP"), Plaintiff hereby moves the Court for leave to amend the Complaint. A copy of the proposed amended complaint has been attached to this motion as Exhibit 1.

Plaintiff has updated and amended the Complaint in this case to add additional factual allegations. The Amended Complaint incorporates new evidence that has become available since the first complaint was filed. This factual information was not available to the Plaintiff when the original Complaint was filed.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15 provides that (emphasis added):

(a) AMENDMENTS BEFORE TRIAL.

(1) Amending as a Matter of Course. A party may amend its pleading once as a matter of course within:

(A) 21 days after serving it, or

(B) if the pleading is one to which a responsive pleading is required, 21 days after service of a responsive pleading or 21 days after service of a motion under Rule 12(b), (e), or (f), whichever is earlier.

(2) Other Amendments. In all other cases, a party may amend its pleading only with the opposing party's written consent or the court's leave. The court should freely give leave when justice so requires.

Leave to amend a complaint should be liberally granted by the Court. Czeremcha v. International Ass'n of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO, 724 F.2d 1552 (11th Cir. 1984); Jennings v. Bic Corporation, 181 F.3d 1250, 1258 (11th Cir. 1999); see also Foman v. Davis, 371 U.S. 178 (1962).

The factual allegations that have been added identify key predicate acts of the RICO enterprise that are strongly related to the injury suffered by Plaintiff in the failure to honor Plaintiff's Freedom of Information Act Requests and in Plaintiff's research of the issues of Defendant Hillary Clinton's waivers to do business with Iran and her efforts to hinder Israeli war plans to stop the development of nuclear weapons by Iran. The factual allegations will more specifically identify the cause of action in the progress of the case.

There will be no undue burden, prejudice, or disruption to the case or to Defendants. The Defendants have not yet filed a responsive pleading to the original Complaint. The Court has not issued any pre-trial scheduling order providing for a deadline to amend any pleadings.

Plaintiff's counsel has sought consent for this motion from Defendants' counsel. Defendants' counsel has not responded to Plaintiff as of the time of this filing. Plaintiff has agreed to extend the date for the Defendants to file a responsive pleading to the Amended Complaint from the previously agreed date of June 1, 2015, by two additional weeks until June 15, 2015. Plaintiff is moving for leave to file the amended complaint at this time, in order that Defendants will have more time to file responsive pleadings should the Court grant this motion.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests that the Court grant leave for Plaintiff to file the attached Amended Complaint.

Dated: May 20, 2015

Respectfully submitted,

Civil Action No. 9:15-cv-80388

TRIAL BY JURY DEMANDED

AMENDED COMPLAINT

Plaintiff sues the Defendants, as individuals operating a criminal enterprise, for violating Plaintiff's statutory rights to obtain documents under the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"), 5 U.S.C. § 552, for violating Plaintiff's due process rights, vested property rights, constitutional rights, and for misappropriating property. The Defendants have systematically and continuously, over the last ten (10) years and more, conducted a corrupt enterprise in violation of the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization ("RICO") Act, all of which acts are continuing in nature. As grounds therefore, Plaintiff alleges as follows:

I. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This is a civil action for violations of 18 U.S.C. § 1961 et seq. (“Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act” or “RICO”). RICO addresses the corrupt abuse and misuse – usually covertly – of organizations, entities, businesses, institutions or even governments or government agencies, such that superficially legitimate entities actually operate for criminal purposes irrelevant to the entity’s purpose.
2. Jurisdiction exists under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 et seq. (federal question jurisdiction), 28 U.S.C. § 1332, diversity of citizenship, as the case is against citizens of different states and gives rise to damages in excess of $75,000. Plaintiff is a citizen of Florida and Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton are citizens of New York. The Clinton Foundation is registered to do business in Arkansas. Former President Clinton and Hillary Clinton are located at 15 Old House Lane, Chappaqua, New York, 10514. The Clinton Foundation is located at 610 President Clinton Avenue, #200, Little Rock, Arkansas, 72201.
3. Jurisdiction is also proper under Bivens v. Six Unknown Named Agents, 403 U.S. 388 (1971), in so far as the actions violate the First and Fifth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.
4. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367.
5. Plaintiff has filed many Freedom of Information Act (“FOIA” or “FOIA Act”) requests for public records created or held by the U.S. Department of State (“State”), which records are of the public interest and importance to the citizens of the United States.
6. Considering two important FOIA requests in particular, the Defendants have withheld documents from the Plaintiff to which the Plaintiff is entitled to by law under FOIA concerning the granting of waivers by the U.S. Secretary of State for persons, companies, countries, and other interests to do business with Iran. In addition, the second FOIA at issue concerns the Defendants, and in particular Defendant Hillary Clinton, leaking Israeli war plans and cyber-warfare methods and sources to David Sanger of The New York Times.

7. As it has now been revealed, a primary reason that the Plaintiff did not receive the records to which the Plaintiff is entitled by law is that Defendant Hillary Clinton – upon information and belief together with Cheryl Mills and Defendant Bill Clinton and other Clinton “loyalists” – set up a private computer file server (“server”) operating a private, stand-alone electronic mail (“email”) system.
8. As admitted by Defendant Hillary Clinton and State, U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton did not use any official, governmental email address or account from State or the U.S. Government, but instead used for her communications as U.S. Secretary of State her own private, ‘off the books’ email system and server secretly set up in her mansion in Chappaqua, New York, even for all of her official business as U.S. Secretary of State.
9. “I thought it would be easier to carry just one device for my work and for my personal emails instead of two,” she incredulously explained at a March 10, 2015 press conference at the United Nations, despite having staff assisting her and traveling with her.
10. Upon information and belief, the server is jointly owned, operated, and controlled by both Defendants Hillary Clinton and Bill Clinton.
11. Upon information and belief, the server was established in part for the use of Defendant The Clinton Foundation and Defendants Bill Clinton and Hillary Clinton. Defendant The Clinton Foundation may own the server in whole or in part.

12. As a result, the Defendants concealed from the Plaintiff public records to which the Plaintiff was entitled to under the FOIA Act.
13. Defendants concealed official government documents such that they were not available to be searched and produced to the Plaintiff under FOIA. Defendants intended to operate a covert enterprise of trading political favors and governmental acts in exchange for donations, which are in effect bribes, to Defendant The Clinton Foundation and/or speaking fees to Defendants Bill and/or Hillary Clinton.
14. Using concealed communications on the private email server, the Defendants negotiated, arranged and implemented the sale of influence and access to U.S. Government officials and decision-makers and official acts by State and other instrumentalities of the U.S. Government in return for bribes disguised as donations to Defendant The Clinton Foundation and extraordinarily high speaking fees paid to Defendant Bill Clinton and Defendant Hillary Clinton.

II. THE PARTIES

15. Plaintiff Larry Klayman is an attorney active in the public interest and is Chairman and General Counsel of Freedom Watch, Inc. Plaintiff seeks to promote openness and transparency in the public interest within the federal government and governmental actions for the benefits of the American people and citizens. Plaintiff initially signed and requested, pursuant to FOIA, the records set forth with regard to the two FOIA requests at issue here. Plaintiff is a citizen of Florida.
16. The Plaintiff's injuries, including the deprivation of his legal rights and legally protected vested property rights, are proximately related to the illegal conduct of Defendants, each and every one of them, jointly and severally.

17. Defendant The Clinton Foundation claims to be a not-for-profit organization subject to Section 501©(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. § 501©(3)).
18. Defendant The Clinton Foundation, originally created under the name of the William J. Clinton Foundation, and also known as The Bill, Hillary & Chelsea Clinton Foundation, was founded by Defendant Bill Clinton in 2001 with the stated mission to “strengthen the capacity of people throughout the world to meet the challenges of global interdependence.”
19. Numerous projects or “initiatives” such as “the Clinton Global Initiative” are subdivisions of Defendant The Clinton Foundation. However, there are also indications among the financial reports of The Clinton Foundation that major “initiatives” have been spun off and are now housed under independent corporations with additional donations.
20. Defendant Hillary Clinton is acting in all events relevant herein as an individual operating a criminal enterprise, but also served as U.S. Secretary of State from January 21, 2009 – February 1, 2013. President Barack Obama appointed Defendant Hillary Clinton to this position. She is a citizen of New York.
21. Defendant Hillary Clinton was an elected U.S. Senator from New York from January 3, 2001, through January 3, 2009, and served on many U.S. Senate committees and subcommittees involving U.S. military capabilities and activities worldwide.
22. Defendant Hillary Clinton was the former First Lady of the United States.
23. Defendant Hillary Clinton is on the Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation.
24. Defendant Hillary Clinton is married to former President and Defendant William Jefferson Clinton and is the mother of Chelsea Victoria Clinton.

25. Defendant Bill Clinton is acting in all events relevant herein as an individual operating a criminal enterprise, but also was President of the United States from January 20, 1993 to January 20, 2001. He is a citizen of New York.

26. Defendant Bill Clinton is a member of the Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation. Defendant The Clinton Foundation's headquarters are in New York, New York and it is incorporated in Arkansas.

27. Though not named as a Defendant at this time, as a relevant actor Chelsea Victoria Clinton is the daughter of Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton. Chelsea Clinton is a member of the Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation and serves as the Vice Chair of the Board of Directors.

28. Though not named as a Defendant at this time, as a relevant actor Bruce Lindsey is The Clinton Foundation's Chairman of the Board, and previously Deputy White House Counsel for Defendant President Bill Clinton during the Clinton administration and a leader in Defendant Bill Clinton's campaign for president.

29. Though not named as a Defendant at this time, as a relevant actor Cheryl Mills is a member of the Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation.

30. Cheryl Mills was Chief of Staff to U.S. Secretary of State Defendant Hillary Clinton and Counselor for State.

31. Cheryl Mills was Associate Counsel to the President under Defendant President Bill Clinton.

III. FACTS COMMON TO ALL COUNTS

32. Defendants have misappropriated – that is, stolen – the documents which are U.S.

Government property under relevant records management and archive laws governing U.S. Government officials.

33. Defendants have misappropriated – that is, stolen – the documents which the Plaintiff is entitled to as a vested property right and property pursuant to FOIA law.

34. Plaintiff filed a FOIA request to State on May 21, 2012, asking in the public interest for:

Any and all documents that refer or relate in any way to the final decisions to grant waivers to all countries and other interests doing business with the Islamic Republic of Iran pursuant to the Comprehensive Iran Sanctions, Accountability, and Divestment Act, 22 U.S.C. § 8501, et. Seq. or Executive Order 13533.

35. These sanctions were established by Congress to hinder Iran’s development of nuclear weapons capable of doing massive damage to cities in the United States and Israel and other western allies by limiting financial transfers to Iran and Iranian interests and to discourage Iran’s military build-up and march to nuclear weapons of mass destruction.

36. Decisions by then Defendant U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton to waive these sanctions are likely to directly undermine the Congressionally-established foreign policy of limiting Iran’s financial abilities to develop nuclear weaponry that can threaten the United States, Israel and its western allies.

37. However, State has not produced any documents in response to this FOIA request.

38. Plaintiff also filed another FOIA request to several agencies including State, asking in the public interest for:

Any and all information that refers or relates to The New York Times article entitled “Obama Order Sped Up Wave of Cyber attacks Against Iran” by David E. Sanger on Friday, June 1, 2012, and which information was provided and leaked to Mr. Sanger and The New York Times;

Any and all information that refers or relates in any way to information released to David E. Sanger and/or made available to him;

The names of the persons, employers and job titles, and addresses of those who “leaked” the above information to David E. Sanger;

Communications with The White House and/or Office of the President and/or Vice President that refer or relate in any way to the “leaked” information and/or the reasons for “leaking” the information;

Any and all information that refer or relate to the decision to “leak” the above previously classified information;

Any and all information that refers or relates to government agencies deciding to investigate who “leaked” the above previously classified information.

39. Reporter David Sanger published information in The New York Times clearly leaked from the U.S. Department of State that included classified information about American-Israeli plans and efforts to sabotage Iran’s nuclear weapons development programs and facilities and American-Israeli war plans and operations against Iran should that prove necessary, among other sensitive and classified information.
40. Public reports about plans to counter Iran’s nuclear weapons development programs undermined the effectiveness of those plans by revealing them to Iran and other terrorist organizations and states.
41. State produced very few documents, and withheld and redacted many documents inappropriately and without providing a Vaughn index.

State’s Compliance with FOIA Harmed and Corrupted by RICO Enterprise

42. As a result of the following facts and circumstances below, State’s search did not find all responsive documents because they were hidden from Departmental scrutiny in the basement of Defendant Hillary Clinton’s personal mansion on a private computer file server managing her private, ‘off-the-books’ email account.

43. Departmental personnel could not locate responsive documents that were intentionally and knowingly kept hidden within Defendant Hillary Clinton’s personal email system for the very purpose of Defendant Hillary Clinton preventing their discovery, and especially those emails already deleted from her private server.

44. According to the Inspector General of State, the employees of State generated more than 1 Billion emails in 2011, yet only 61,156 were retained as public records.

45. As a result of State employees preserving only 61,156 emails out of over 1 Billion emails, State did not fully produce documents in response to various FOIA requests.

46. In the aforementioned report, the Inspector General of State conducted a review and issued a report “Review of State Messaging and Archive Retrieval Toolset and Record Email” publicly released on March 11, 2015,¹ stating that:

Some employees do not create record emails because they do not want to make the email available in searches or fear that this availability would inhibit debate about pending decisions.

Every employee in the Department has the responsibility of preserving emails that should be retained as official records.

Most mission and bureau employees who did not use record emails as intended told OIG they were usually unaware of what types of information should be saved as record emails.

Some employees were under the impression that record emails were only a convenience; they had not understood that some emails were required to be saved as records.

The Department's deficiencies in preserving appropriate emails cannot be changed unless the actions of individual employees change.

The Department of State (Department) and its employees need official records for many purposes: reference in conducting ongoing operations; orientation of successors; defending the U.S. Government's position in disputes or misunderstandings; holding individuals accountable; recording policies, practices, and accomplishments; responding to congressional and other enquiries; and documenting U.S. diplomatic history. Record preservation is particularly important in the Department because Foreign Service officers rotate into new positions every 2 or 3 years. Federal law requires departments, agencies, and their employees to create records of their more significant actions and to preserve records according to Government wide standards.

47. In responding to the subject FOIA request State, its then Chief of Staff Cheryl Mills, and its then U.S. Secretary, Defendant Hillary Clinton, lied to the lower court, as they claimed that there were no responsive documents.
48. State's search for records responsive to the Plaintiff's FOIA requests was inadequate because the Defendants knowingly and intentionally concealed approximately 62,490 records from official State record-keeping until around two years after Hillary Clinton left office and admitted destroyed over 32,000 of those records.
49. As a result, the concealment of approximately 62,490 emails to and from the U.S. Secretary of State directly harmed the Plaintiff in the availability of the most relevant and the most important records of State, given that the U.S. Secretary would be informed about or giving orders concerning the high-level issues and policies addressed by Plaintiff's FOIA requests and the similar FOIA requests of other requesters.
50. Even those emails returned to State were concealed for two years after Defendant Hillary Clinton's separation from State, and all during her tenure as U.S. Secretary of State.

51. Now, State has stated in another federal lawsuit under FOIA brought by Plaintiff “Vice News” in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia before Judge Rudolf Contreras that it will not be ready to release the 30,490 emails handed over, belatedly, to State from Hillary Clinton until January 2016, if then.
52. Relying on these false representations, the lower court granted summary judgment in lawsuits by Freedom Watch seeking these documents.
53. These false representations worked a fraud upon the Courts and Plaintiff and are an obstruction of justice.

U.S. State Department Did Not Comply with FOIA as Defendants Concealed Public Records on Private Server

54. Defendant Hillary Clinton was sworn in as U.S. Secretary of State on January 21, 2009, and then formally resigned as U.S. Secretary of State on February 1, 2013.
55. However, the position of Inspector General at State, charged with overseeing compliance with laws and regulations at State, was vacant for nearly 2,066 days from the resignation of Howard J. Krongard on December 7, 2007, until the U.S. Senate confirmed Steve A. Linick on September 30, 2013.
56. During Defendant Hillary Clinton’s entire term as U.S. Secretary of State – including her separation procedures as she departed – State had no Inspector General compliance officer to oversee compliance with laws, regulations, and Departmental procedures.
57. Meanwhile, Defendant Hillary Clinton (together with Defendant Bill Clinton and The Clinton Foundation) set up a private, off-the-books, email system approximately nine (9) days before she was sworn in as U.S. Secretary of State as uncovered, revealed, and reported by The New York Times.²

58. Defendant Hillary Clinton conducted U.S. Government business through said private, unofficial email account secretly housed and maintained on a computer file server operating email addresses (accounts) such as at “@clintonemail.com,” situated in Defendant Hillary Clinton’s private mansion in Chappaqua, New York.³
59. On hundreds of occasions Defendant Hillary Clinton was photographed by news media on the job, at official meetings, on official travel, at official events, and on official business conspicuously reading emails on her hand-held “smart phone.”
60. Defendant Hillary Clinton admitted in a press conference at the United Nations on March 10, 2015, that she had turned over 30,490 emails from the private email server to State in December 2014, nearly two years after leaving office.
61. However, Hillary Clinton also said she had deleted nearly 32,000 other email messages from that private email server at her mansion in Chappaqua, New York, claiming those emails are “private.”

³ Emails used by Hillary Clinton identified so far include:

hdr22@clintonemail.com
h.clinton@clintonemail.com
Hillary@clintonemail.com
hrod17@clintonemail.com

Also, as Hillary Clinton's key aide, usually by Hillary's side, Huma Abedin used the email address huma@clintonemail.com

62. As renowned ethics professor Ronald D. Rotunda writes, “By her own admission, Mrs. Clinton destroyed more than 30,000 emails once the subpoenas started coming in. She claims that she only destroyed personal records.”⁴

63. As explained by Law Professor Ronald D. Rotunda, distinguished ethics expert, which Plaintiff alleges herein, Defendant Hillary Clinton’s actions were an intentional and pre-mediated effort, in violation of the law, to evade Congressional subpoenas and other legal accountability:

Mrs. Clinton was worried that communicating through email would leave a trail that might be subject to subpoena. “As much as I’ve been investigated and all of that,” she said in 2000, “why would I ever want to do email?” But when she became secretary of state, she didn’t have much choice. So she set up a private server in her house. That way, in the event of an investigation, she could control which emails would be turned over.⁵

64. In her own words, as an admission by a party-opponent, Defendant Hillary Clinton announced her reasons for avoiding traditional email as being to avoid providing information to official, government, judicial or Congressional investigations under the nation’s rule of law.

65. However, Defendant Hillary Clinton confirmed that she is acting as the sole judge of which emails she deleted as “personal.” Defendant Hillary Clinton stated in the public press conference: “For any government employee, it is that government employee’s responsibility to determine what’s personal and what’s work related.”⁶

66. Chelsea Clinton, Vice Chair of The Clinton Foundation, also had an email address (account) at “@clintonemail.com.”

Legal Obligation to Preserve and Disclose Official Records – Probable Perjury

67. When Defendant Hillary Clinton departed State, she was required to undergo separation procedures in accordance with State’s Records Management Manual, (5 FAH-4 H-217.2(b)). U.S. Department of State Foreign Affairs Manual Volume 5 Handbook 4 Records Management Handbook: “Records Organization.”⁷

68. These procedures required Defendant Hillary Clinton to certify that she had returned to State all documents in her possession, including on Form 109.

69. However, Defendant Hillary Clinton now admits that she did not return emails from her private server involving official State business to State until March 2015 two (2) years after her departure on February 1, 2013, when she finally returned 30,490 emails from her private server involving her work as U.S. Secretary of State.

70. It is a reasonable inference from the facts known and alleged that Defendant Hillary Clinton signed Form 109 under penalty of perjury pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1001. This statute provides for ten (10) years in prison for every false statement.

71. Regardless of whether she signed the form, Defendant Hillary Clinton was required to return official records upon her separation from service at the U.S. Department of State. Pursuant to 18 U.S. Code § 2071(b) (emphasis added):

Whoever, having the custody of any such record, proceeding, map, book, document, paper, or other thing, willfully and unlawfully address were classified. Therefore, none of the 30,490 emails that Defendant Hillary Clinton admits were official business and turned over to State are classified and they should be produced where responsive without any FOIA exemption. This, however, conspicuously leaves out whether she received such material.

conceals, removes, mutilates, obliterates, falsifies, or destroys the same, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and shall forfeit his office and be disqualified from holding any office under the United States . . .

Neutral Decision-Maker Must Decide Which Emails are “Private”

72. Plaintiff asks that a neutral forensic expert be ordered, as the Court’s expert, to take custody and control of the private email server and reconstruct and preserve the official U.S. Government records relating to the conduct of U.S. foreign policy during Defendant Hillary Clinton’s term as U.S. Secretary of State from January 20, 2009, through February 1, 2013, just as Judge Royce Lamberth ordered in the ‘Filegate’ case missing emails, Alexander v. FBI, et. al, Case No. 1:96-cv-02123.
73. Defendant Hillary Clinton seeks to minimize the problem by asserting that the recipients in the U.S. Government on their end might have preserved her emails sent to other people in the U.S. Government.
74. However, as noted herein, the Inspector General of State found that Departmental employees of State generated more than 1 Billion emails in 2011, yet retained only 61,156 as public records.
75. Moreover, Defendant Hillary Clinton’s emails would not be preserved to or from leaders of foreign countries nor with foreign governments or U.S. or foreign business interests, negotiating speaking fees for Bill Clinton or donations to Defendant The Clinton Foundation.
76. Negotiations by email about influencing U.S. foreign policy or U.S. Government actions to benefit donors to Defendant The Clinton Foundation or sponsors of speaking engagements would not be captured on a U.S. Government email account because her emails would not be with a U.S. Government official.

Withholding of Public Records Motivated by Corrupt Enterprise

77. Here, official records of State – consisting of emails sent from and received by Defendant Hillary Clinton – were concealed within Defendant Hillary Clinton’s server in her mansion for the personal and political benefit of the Defendants.

78. The very purpose of communicating through a private computer email server and “off the books” private email address and account was to conceal the contents of those communications from Plaintiff, from public discovery and from official scrutiny.

79. Since leaving The White House in 2001, the Bill and Hillary Clinton household has amassed a personal fortune (outside of The Clinton Foundation) of over $105 Million USD, consisting mainly of speaking fees paid to Bill Clinton from many nations, organizations, leaders, and business interests who are hostile to the United States and U.S. foreign policy and especially hostile to Israel, but flush with cash from oil revenue or from sources doing business with oil-rich, Middle Eastern and Arab countries.

80. Before Hillary Clinton became U.S. Secretary of State, Bill Clinton as former President received an average of $70,000 in speaking fees for each speech he delivered.⁸

81. After Hillary Clinton became U.S. Secretary of State, Bill Clinton received speaking fees between $500,000 and $1.3 million for each speech he delivered.

82. As reported by ABC News:⁹

After his wife became Secretary of State, former President Bill Clinton began to collect speaking fees that often doubled or tripled what he had been charging earlier in his post White House years, bringing in millions of dollars from groups that included several with interests pending before the State Department, an ABC News review of financial disclosure records shows.

Where he once had drawn $150,000 for a typical address in the years following his presidency, Clinton saw a succession of staggering paydays for speeches in 2010 and 2011, including $500,000 paid by a Russian investment bank and $750,000 to address a telecom conference in China.

“It’s unusual to see a former president’s speaking fee go up over time,” said Richard Painter, who served as chief ethics lawyer in the White House Counsel’s office under President George W. Bush. “I must say I’m surprised that he raised his fees. There’s no prohibition on his raising it. But it does create some appearance problems if he raises his fee after she becomes Secretary of State.”

83. As CBS News reported,¹⁰ which Plaintiff realleges herein, Defendant The Clinton

Foundation has raised at least $42 Million USD from foreign governments and at least $170 Million USD from foreign entities and individuals.

84. Interested parties bribed U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton to influence her official actions in office by arranging or orchestrating large speaking fees paid to Bill Clinton and large donations to the Clinton Foundation.

85. Because and only because Bill Clinton’s wife Hillary Clinton became U.S. Secretary of State the speaking fees paid to Bill Clinton increased to between $500,000 and $1.3 million per speech from his prior average of $70,000 per speech, in contrast to all other former officials who earn less money the more time has passed since they left office ¹¹

86. Payments to Bill Clinton of $550,000 to $750,000 for a single speech are too large to be absorbed by an increase in attendance at a conference or event. Therefore, those fees paid to Bill Clinton were bribes to Hillary Clinton.

87. Hillary Clinton used the private email server maintained at the Clintons' home in Chappaqua, New York and the emails processed through that server to negotiate, orchestrate, and/or arrange many of the speaking fees paid to her husband Bill Clinton and donations to The Clinton Foundation.
88. Hillary Clinton deleted 32,000 email messages from her email server that included her communications arranging, negotiating, and agreeing upon speaking engagements by Bill Clinton in return for large speaking fees and donations to The Clinton Foundation.
89. Interested parties bribed U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton to influence her official actions in office by making large donations to the Clinton Foundation.
90. Foreign donors neglected charitable organizations and needs in their own countries and donated to The Clinton Foundation because their purpose was to bribe Hillary Clinton.
91. Specifically, in or about 2011 to 2012, Hillary Clinton, while U.S. Secretary of State, granted a waiver to Victor Pinchuk and his company Interpipe Group as an exemption from U.S. Congressional sanctions against doing business with Iran as a quid pro quo for bribes disguised as donations made to The Clinton Foundation.
92. The Plaintiff specifically requested under the Freedom of Information Act all of these documents and records about such waivers from the U.S. Department of State, but was denied access to these documents under FOIA from the U.S. Department of State in part because the Defendants here concealed those documents on the Defendants' private email server and then deleted 32,000 of them illegally.

93. Ukrainian oligarch Victor Pinchuk is the largest individual contributor to the Clinton Foundation, as reported by Newsweek Magazine.¹²
94. Pinchuk is the fourth richest man in Ukraine, who owns Interpipe Group, a Cyprus-incorporated manufacturer of seamless pipes used in oil and gas sectors.
95. Plaintiff alleges here as disclosed by Newsweek, “declarations and documents from Ukraine [] show a series of shipments from Interpipe to Iran in 2011 and 2012, including railway parts and products commonly used in the oil and gas sectors.” Id.
96. Plaintiff alleges here as disclosed by Newsweek, “Among a number of high-value invoices for products related to rail or oil and gas, one shipment for $1.8 m[illion] in May 2012 was for ‘seamless hot-worked steep pipe for pipelines.’ and destined for a city [in Iran] near the Caspian Sea.” Id.
97. Plaintiff alleges here as disclosed by Newsweek, “Both the rail and oil and gas sectors are sanctioned by the US, which specifically prohibits any single invoice to the Iranian petrochemical industry worth more than $1 m[illion].” Id.
98. The U.S. Secretary of State, at that time Hillary Clinton, had the authority and responsibility to place companies doing business with Iran on a U.S. Government list that prohibits any bank in the world with any presence inside the United states from handling any financial transactions anywhere in the world involving that banned company. She also had the authority to grant waivers for individuals, companies, foreign states and others to do business with Iran.

99. But Pinchuk bribed the U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton to allow InterPipe Group to continue to do business with Iran by granting a waiver in exchange for donating money that resulted in him becoming the largest individual donor to The Clinton Foundation.

100. Pinchuk's foundation donated $8.6 million to the Clinton Foundation and pledged a further $1.5 million or more to Ukrainian projects through the Clinton Global Initiative (CGI). It has sponsored CGI's annual meetings in past years,

101. The Russian State Atomic Nuclear Agency (Rosatom) is the government agency of Russia that governs all issues in Russia related to nuclear energy.

102. Rosatom has assisted and continues to assist Iran developing nuclear energy technology and nuclear reactors (although Iran has vast supplies of oil, which is cheaper).

103. Rosatom proposed to buy 52% of the company Uranium One (with which Frank Giustra's UrAsia Energy merged earlier), which owned uranium mines in the United States and which was aggressively buying more uranium mines inside the United States.

104. Many U.S. Government officials and political leaders opposed Rosatom's purchase of a 52% controlling share of Uranium One both because of the risk of uranium being transferred to Iran by Rosatom and the loss of U.S. uranium resources as a strategic resource of the United States or restrictions on U.S. uranium.

105. The sale of a stake in Uranium One to Rosatom had to be approved by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS), which is a high-level board made up cabinet level officials including the U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton.

106. The Chairman of Uranium One Ian Telfer then donated $2.35 million to The Clinton Foundation through Telfer's foundation The Fernwood Foundation and another $1 million to the Clinton-Guistra Sustainable Growth Initiative.
107. Financial advisors arranging the Uranium One – Rosatom deal, Robert Disbrow and Paul Reynolds, also gave multi-million dollar donations to The Clinton Foundation.
108. Salida Capital, identified in Rosatom's annual report as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Rosatom, donated another $2.65 million to The Clinton Foundation.
109. Salida Capital also cosponsored a speech by Bill Clinton in Calgary, Canada, for which Bill Clinton was paid.¹³
110. Thereupon CFIUS led by Hillary Clinton as U.S. Secretary of State approved the sale and the Russian Federation through its agency Rosatom purchased 52% of Uranium One.
111. Similarly, the U.S. State Department proposed to impose sanctions against sales of telecommunications equipment and services to Iran between 2009 and 2012, as part of a Congressionally-mandated effort to pressure Iran to stop developing nuclear bombs.
112. On November 12, 2011, Swedish telecommunications giant Ericsson paid Bill Clinton $750,000 for a single speech, the largest fee he had been paid to date.¹⁴
113. In late 2010, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission sent a letter to Ericsson about Ericsson's sales of advanced telecommunications equipment and technology to countries that are listed as state sponsors of terrorism by Hillary Clinton's U.S. State Department, including Iran.¹⁵

¹³ The speech was apparently titled "The Power Within."

114. U.S. State Department officials were in this same time period regularly and increasingly protesting Ericsson's sales to Iran and other state sponsors of terrorism with Sweden's Prime Minister.¹⁶

115. In April 2011, Ericsson was accused in a U.S. State Department report of supplying telecommunications equipment to the oppressive, Stalinist regime of Belarus.¹⁷

116. In June 2011, the U.S. State Department proposed expanded sanctions on Iran and other state sponsors of terrorism, with an expanded list of products and services, including telecommunications equipment and services, to be further restricted.¹⁸

117. But then on November 12, 2011, Bill Clinton was paid $750,000 by Ericsson to give a vague, superficial speech about the role that telecommunications play in all our lives to an Ericsson telecommunications conference in Hong Kong.

118. One week later on November 19, 2011, Hillary Clinton's U.S. State Department unveiled its new list of sanctions for Iran, removing the type of telecommunications equipment and services sold by Ericsson from the restrictions in previous drafts.¹⁹

119. In April 2012, President Obama signed an executive order imposing sanctions on sales of some telecommunications equipment and services to Iran, but exempting the equipment and services that Ericsson was selling to Iran.
120. In 2012, President Obama needed the support of Bill and Hillary Clinton in his campaign for re-election for President in November 2012.
121. Ericsson obtained a waiver of sanctions against doing business with Iran by bribing U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton with a payment of $750,000 paid to Bill Clinton under the guise of a speaking fee for a single superficial speech.
122. In 2011, Bill Clinton was paid $700,000 for one speech in Nigeria, most of which country suffers from overwhelming poverty, by a newspaper publishing company, in an era when newspapers are struggling financially even in the United States.
123. The $700,000 speaking fee paid by the Nigerian newspaper publishing company in 2011 was actually a bribe by undisclosed interests to U.S. Secretary Hillary Clinton.
124. In 2011, Bill Clinton was paid $550,000 for a speech to a business conference in Shanghai, China.
125. In 2010, while Hillary Clinton was U.S. Secretary of State overseeing delicate issues involving Egypt and the “Arab Spring,” Bill Clinton was paid $250,000 to address the American Chamber of Commerce in Egypt, while other sponsors for the event were proposed to include Etisalat, a large Middle Eastern telecommunications company whose majority owner is the government of the United Arab Emirates.
126. Donations to The Clinton Foundation were, are being, and will be used in the future to benefit Bill Clinton, Hillary Clinton, and Chelsea Clinton and others personally.

127. The Defendants have extended and continued the same modus operandi as Hillary Clinton's sale of seats on U.S. Government trade missions to foreign countries during the Clinton Administration in exchange for donations to the Clinton / Gore re-election campaign. As explained by Peter Schweizer in his book Clinton Cash, published by Harper Collins Publishers and released on May 5, 2015.

Here is how it worked: Bill flew around the world making speeches and burnishing his reputation as a global humanitarian and wise man. Very often on those trips he was accompanied by "close friends" or associates who happened to have business interests pending in those countries. Introductions were made, deals struck, and photo ops arranged before an admiring foreign press. Meanwhile, bureaucratic or legislative obstacles were mysteriously cleared or approvals granted within the purview of his wife, the powerful senator or secretary of state. Huge donations then flowed into the Clinton Foundation while Bill received enormous speaking fees underwritten by the very businessmen who benefitted from these apparent interventions.

128. According to The New York Post, "The Clinton family's mega-charity took in more than $140 million in grants and pledges in 2013 but spent just $9 million on direct aid. The group spent the bulk of its windfall on administration, travel, and salaries and bonuses, with the fattest payouts going to family friends." And "The Clinton Foundation's finances are so messy that the nation's most influential charity watchdog put it on its "watch list" of problematic nonprofits last month."²⁰

²⁰ Isabel Vincent, "Charity Watchdog: Clinton Foundation a 'Slush Fund,'" The New York Post, April 26, 2015, accessible at: <http://nypost.com/2015/04/26/charity-watchdog-clinton-foundation-a-slush-fund/>

129. According to a study of The Clinton Foundation's tax returns by The Federalist,²¹ in 2013 only ten percent (10%) of The Clinton Foundation's budget went to charity, but ninety percent (90%) to overhead, including nearly $8.5 million for travel, nearly $4.8 million for office supplies. $3.7 million for employee fringe benefits, $4 million for rent, $9.2 million for conferences and conventions headlined by the Clinton family, and $2.1 million for information technology expenses.

130. For example, the Clinton Foundation received an estimated $36 million in donations to help rebuild Haiti after a devastating earthquake in 2010.

131. However, in January 2015, Haitians demonstrated outside The Clinton Foundation offices in New York City protesting how five years later The Clinton Foundation has still not used the donations to benefit Haiti and has also arranged kick-backs to The Clinton Foundation siphoning off aid money meant to help Haitians. The Haitian demonstrators protested that $10 billion in aid money including donations to The Clinton Foundation has gone missing and has not been used to benefit the people of Haiti.

132. Moreover, in or about 2006 to 2009, Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton solicited and took bribes to procure the help and influence of the U.S. Government and the Government of Kazakhstan to benefit Canadian businessman Frank Giustra and his company UrAsia Energy (later merged with Uranium One) and the company's investors.

133. Canadian businessman Frank Giustra was experienced at trading in penny stocks in mining companies but had no experience in the actual work of uranium mining.

134. Far more experienced international mining companies were seeking to mine uranium in Kazakhstan including by purchasing interests in Kazakh mining companies.

²¹ Sean Davis, "In 2013, The Clinton Foundation Only Spent 10 Percent of Its Budget on Charitable Grants," The Federalist, April 27, 2015, <http://thefederalist.com/2015/04/27/in-2013-the-clinton-foundation-only-spent-10-percent-of-its-budget-on-charitable-grants/>

135. Giustra's company UrAsia Energy had no chance in winning the competition for mining rights in Kazakhstan according to industry analysts.
136. Yet, with the intervention of former U.S Senator and then U.S Secretary of State Hillary Clinton, Giustra's company leapt ahead of highly-experienced competitors to get mining resources and rights to uranium in Kazakhstan by buying a 30 percent stake in the Kharassan uranium and a 70 percent stake in the Betpak-Dula joint venture project.
137. As stated in a video that Dzhaishev recorded in 2009, which Plaintiff realleges herein, Mukhtar Dzhakishev, the President of Kazatomprom – Kazakhstan's government-owned energy company – claimed that U.S. Senator Hillary Clinton at the time pressured Kazakh government officials to secure the uranium deal for Giustra's Canadian company and investors.
138. At the time, U.S. Senator Hillary Clinton sat on the U.S. Senate Armed Services Committee, specifically the Subcommittee on Emerging Threats and Capabilities.
139. That Subcommittee had responsibility for the hundreds of millions of dollars of financial aid from the United States to Kazakhstan for non-proliferation.²²
140. Specifically, according to Dzhakishev, which Plaintiff realleges herein, when Kazakhstan's Prime Minister Karim Massimov visited the United States and needed to meet with Senator Hillary Clinton, Senator Clinton cancelled the meeting and explained that the meeting was being cancelled because the investors connected to the Clintons were having problems working in Kazakhstan, and until Kazakhstan solved those problems there would be no meeting and "all manner of measures would be taken.

²² When Kazakhstan was part of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the Soviet military had nuclear and other strategic weapons stationed on Kazakh territory.

141. When Prime Minister Massimov returned to Kazakhstan he called Dzhakishev and instructed Dzhakishev to resolve the obstacles to Giustra obtaining the uranium mining concessions, approvals, and rights in Kazakhstan.

142. An adviser to Bill Clinton, Tim Phillips, then contacted Dzhakishev told Dzhakishev that there would be no further meetings with Senator Hillary Clinton until Kazakh officials approved Giustra's uranium deal.

143. Meanwhile in this same time period, many organizers and shareholders in Giustra's UrAsia Energy (later merged with company Uranium One) donated heavily to the Clinton Foundation:

- a. Frank Giustra donated $31.3 million to The Clinton Foundation and committed to donate another $100 million over time.
- b. Frank Holmes, another major stockholder in the deal, donated between $250,000 and $500,000 to the Clinton Foundation.²³
- c. Giustra's colleague Neil Woodyer pledged $500,000 to the Clinton Foundation and committed to provide ongoing financial support.
- d. Ian Telfer, Chairman of UrAsia Energy and later Chairman of the merged company Uranium One, pledged $3 million to The Clinton Foundation.
- e. Robert Disbrow donated between $1 million and $5 million to the Clinton Foundation after assisting in floating the shares of UrAsia Energy in a private placement.
- f. Robert Cross, a major shareholder and director of UrAsia Energy, donated a portion of his future income to The Clinton Foundation.

²³ Many financial transactions are reported only in ranges.

- g. Paul Reynolds donated between $1 million and $5 million to The Clinton Foundation after facilitating the UrAsia Energy placement.
- h. GMP Securities, Ltd., a large shareholder in UrAsia Energy and underwriter in various UrAsia Energy deals, donated between $1 million and $5 million.
- i. Sergei Kurzin, a shareholder in UrAsia Energy and a Russian dealmaker involved in the Kazakhstan uranium deal pledged $1 million to the Clinton Foundation.

144. In February 2007, UrAsia Energy announced a merger with Uranium One, a company based in South Africa and Canada.

145. However, the merger of companies involved in the mining of and trade in uranium from Kazakhstan required approval from the government of Kazakhstan.

146. That same month, Frank Giustra arranged for Mukhtar Dhakishev, the head of Kazatomoprom to travel to Chappaqua, New York, for a private meeting with the Clintons.

147. Bill and Hillary Clinton pressured the government of Kazakhstan to approve the merger of UrAsia Energy and Uranium One for the benefit of Giustra and his colleagues.

148. Similarly, at the end of Bill Clinton's presidency, India surprised the world by exploding five nuclear bombs in underground tests.

149. As a result, the Clinton Administration imposed trade sanctions upon India similar to the trade sanctions imposed on Iran to try to stop Iran's nuclear weapons development.

150. However, after, the Clintons left the White House, India directly and through intermediaries paid millions of dollars to The Clinton Foundation and as speaking fees to Bill Clinton.

151. Donors to The Clinton Foundation related to India ignored charities in their own country in India, where there is extensive poverty and disease, to donate to The Clinton Foundation because the donations were actually bribes paid to Hillary Clinton.
152. Bill and Hillary Clinton switched positions from being in favor of continuing trade sanctions on India to encourage them to slow their nuclear weapons development to supporting legislation to lift the trade sanctions on India.
153. Hillary Clinton as Senator supported legislation to tighten restrictions on India.
154. Then for the first time significant sums of money started to flow into The Clinton Foundation from interests in India, and Indian businessman started to participate in Clinton Foundation events.
155. In or about 2008, Sant Chatwal, a supporter of loosening U.S. legislation on India's nuclear energy programs, arranged for Bill Clinton to be paid $450,000 for a speech at a London charity event, $170,000 more than his typical overseas speech up until that time. The fee paid to Bill Clinton was 30% of the total amount raised at the event for global relief efforts.
156. Indian legislator Amar Singh donated between $1 million and $5 million to The Clinton Foundation.
157. In September 2011, Amar Singe was arrested in India for bribing three members of parliament during a 2008 vote related to the U.S.-India nuclear deal.
158. With the encouragement of then U.S. Senator Hillary Clinton, the sanctions on India related to its nuclear weapons development were lifted.
159. Meanwhile, during 2014-2015, the U.S. Department State, at the direction of Defendant Hillary Clinton, funneled millions to organizations and interests in an attempt to defeat Prime Minister Netanyahu and his Likud Party in the March 2015 parliamentary election.

160. In return, oil-rich Arab countries donated to The Clinton Foundation and sponsored high-paying speeches by Bill Clinton.
161. Defendant Hillary Clinton and the other Defendants transferred State funds to a U.S. non-profit called The PeaceWorks Network Foundation and to “One Voice,” run by a Democrat campaign leader, Jeremy Bird, in an effort to defeat Israeli Prime Minister Netanyahu and his Likud Party.
162. This action, and the appropriation of State and U.S. taxpayer funds to finance this criminal enterprise, was a quid pro quo for contributions by Arab and Palestinian interests to The Clinton Foundation as well as the payment of large speaking fees to Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton, as well as other illegal gratuities.
163. These illegal organizations used U.S. taxpayer funds to bus Israeli Arabs to the polls on March 17, 2015 to vote against Prime Minister Netanyahu, as he opposes a Palestinian State on the West Bank and other Arab/Iranian designs to destroy Israel.
164. Furthermore, the State Department expedited visas for Arab political leaders organizing campaigns in Israel²⁴ against Benjamin Netanyahu to come to the U.S. and receive political campaign training for their efforts to defeat Netanyahu.²⁵
165. As an IRS 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, Defendant The Clinton Foundation is forbidden from engaging in foreign or domestic political campaign activities.

²⁴ It is often forgotten that Israel includes 1.4 Million voting citizens who are Palestinians. The visas were issued to Israeli citizens mobilizing campaigns against Netanyahu.

166. The State Department mysteriously “misplaced” and “lost” approximately $6 billion mostly during the tenure of U.S. Secretary of State Hilary Clinton, according to an Inspector General report released in April 2014. The Inspector General warned that “The failure to maintain contract files adequately creates significant financial risk ...” and “creates conditions conducive to fraud, as corrupt individuals may attempt to conceal evidence of illicit behavior by omitting key documents from the contract file.”

<http://www.washingtontimes.com/news/2014/apr/4/state-dept-misplaced-6b-under-hillary-clinton-ig-r/?page=all>

167. This pattern and practice of criminal conduct is also bolstered by revelations that the “Bill, Hillary & Chelsea Clinton Foundation” received millions of dollars from foreign governments including Qatar, a prominent backer and financier of Hamas and ISIS. It was also recently revealed on March 16, 2015 that a Chinese conglomerate owned by a delegate to the Chinese parliament pledged millions to Defendant The Clinton Foundation, which shows that Defendants have again used their previously revealed bribery from communist China to enrich their foundation and themselves.

168. The United Arab Emirates gave between $1 Million and $5 Million USD in 2014, and the German government contributed between $100,000 and $250,000. (Like France, German companies do extensive business with the Middle East.).

169. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has given between $10 Million and $25 Million USD since the foundation’s creation in 1999. Qatar’s government, which funds ISIS, has donated between $1 Million and $5 Million USD. Oman has given the foundation between $1 Million and $5 Million USD. Prior to last year, its donations fell in the same range.

170. Similarly, Ethiopian-born Saudi Arabian businessman Sheikh Mohammed al-Amoudi pledged $20 million to The Clinton Foundation shortly after Hillary Clinton announced her 2008 campaign for President.

171. As warned in a letter to the U.S. Department of State by an Ethiopian human rights organization, “Why would a wealthy man from one of the poorest countries in the world say no to organizations [charities] in his own country and yet easily cough up $20 million for an American organization 10,000 miles away?” Plaintiff alleges herein the allegation inherent in this question that Amoudi donated $20 million to The Clinton Foundation as a bribe to Hillary Clinton.

172. As warned in a letter to the U.S. Department of State by an Ethiopian human rights organization, which Plaintiff re-alleges herein, “Local AIDS organizations that appealed to the billionaire [Amoudi] were turned down.”

173. Amoudi was at this time head of the Mommmed International Development Research and Organization which had extensive investments in Ethiopia in mines, agriculture, hotels, hospitals, the steel industry, and cement factories. Amoudi’s wealth is largely a result Amoudi’s close relationship with Ethiopia’s dictator Meles Zenawi.

174. Then U.S. Senator Hillary Clinton used her influence and vote in the U.S. Senate to derail the Ethiopia Democracy and Accountability Act (Support for Democracy and Human Rights in Ethiopia Act of 2008 in the U.S. Senate), introduced by New Jersey Democrat and African-American Congressman Donald Payne which would have harmed Amoudi’s vast business empire in Ethiopia.

175. Then as U.S. Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton granted Ethiopia waivers of transparency requirements related to the United States’ massive financial aid to Ethiopia.

176. Similarly, while Hillary Clinton was U.S. Secretary of State, the country of Columbia greatly desired a free trade agreement with the United States.
177. Hillary Clinton as U.S. Secretary of State had great influence over these negotiations.
178. At that same time, Bill Clinton asked for and received a $20 million donation from Frank Giustra to the Clinton Foundation for small business in Columbia.
179. At that same time, Frank Giustra had large investments in Columbia and was seeking to expand his investments in oil, natural gas, coal, and timber in Columbia.
180. As a quid pro quo for his $20 million donation to The Clinton Foundation, Frank Giustra received the assistance from the U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton for his business interests in Columbia, primarily by supporting the government of Columbia's diplomatic goals in return for Columbia's support for Frank Giustra's businesses.
181. Days after Hillary Clinton's visit to Bogota, Columbia, in or about 2010, Frank Giustra's company Flagship Industries received permission to cut timber in an environmentally protected forest.
182. Days later, Pacific Rubiales Energy, associated with Frank Giustra, received the right to drill for oil on six desirable lots from President Uribe's government.
183. Pacific Rubiales then donated $4 million to the Clinton Giustra Sustainable Growth Initiative of The Clinton Foundation.
184. Local charities inside Columbia protested that Pacific Rubiales ignored local charities to give to The Clinton Foundation associated with the U.S. Secretary of State.

185. Another of Giustra’s companies, Petroamerica, then received the right to explore for and produce oil in Columbia, even though it had only been founded a few months earlier.

186. Throughout Hillary Clinton’s terms as U.S. Senator and U.S. Secretary of State, The Clinton Foundation and Bill Clinton’s speeches and appearances focused on resource rich areas of the world with oppressive and anti-democratic governments with serious human rights and political scandals and questions, where the Clintons’ influence in return for a share of the natural resource riches could help whitewash and front for disreputable governments to “clean up” their image and obtain other benefits for them.

Personal Benefits Derived from Donations to The Clinton Foundation

187. As Jennifer Rubin for The Washington Post reports: “The foundation of course provides luxury travel for Defendant Hillary Clinton and her spouse, a high-visibility platform and access to mega-donors. She is beholden in a meaningful sense to its donors.”²⁶

188. Unlike regulated campaign funds, which cannot be used for personal expenses, donations to Defendant The Clinton Foundation provide luxury travel, up-scale social events, entertainment, gala dinners with world celebrities, other benefits and access to important people for Defendant Bill, Defendant Hillary, and Chelsea Clinton for decades to come, and can also pay compensation or stipends to Defendant Bill, Defendant Hillary, and Chelsea Clinton on the barest excuse of their time or attendance being for Clinton Foundation business. These decisions are controlled by themselves and their closest political friends.

²⁶ “Foreign donations to foundation raise major ethical questions for Hillary Clinton,” Jennifer Rubin, The Washington Post, February 18, 2015.

189. A May 29, 2014, press release from the Clinton Global Initiative reports that a total of $15 Billion USD (– billion) has been raised in donations to the Clinton Global Initiative alone, as a project of Defendant The Clinton Foundation, including commitments or pledges to make further donations adding up to the overall total of $15 Billion USD. Internationally, the Clinton Global Initiative announced that it has arranged “Commitments to Action” worth $103 Billion USD when fully funded and implemented.

190. From the self-described history and self-description posted by Defendant The Clinton Foundation about itself that the spending of its funds are driven by personal decisions made by Defendant Bill Clinton, Defendant Hillary Clinton, and their daughter, Chelsea.

191. Coincidentally, a confidential source inquired within the last year, motivated by humanitarian concerns for unemployed Haitian migrants living in slums in the Bahamas after a blight destroyed citrus groves, how a Bahamian group could apply to The Clinton Foundation for an environmental/humanitarian/economic development grant to create biodiesel fuel. Defendant The Clinton Foundation replied that it does not have any grant application process, has no standards or procedures for evaluating potential projects, and does not make grants.

192. The absence of any organized process for considering the validity, relative importance, and priority of projects, instead vesting decisions in the whim and personal desire of the Clinton family, transforms the projects into personal benefits to the Clintons.

193. The Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation are, according to its representations on its website:

Bruce Lindsey, Chairman of the Board
Chelsea Clinton, Vice Chair of the Board

President, Bill Clinton
Secretary, Hillary Rodham Clinton
Former Counselor of the U.S. Department of State, Cheryl Mills
Ambassador Eric Goosby, MD
Lisa Jackson
Frank Giustra
Rolando Gonzalez Bunster
Hadeel Ibrahim
Cheryl Saban, Ph.D.

194. Cheryl Mills was, according to Defendant The Clinton Foundation's website, a member of the Board of Directors from 2004 to 2009 and then from 2013 to present. That is, Cheryl Mills was previously running Defendant The Clinton Foundation as a Director on the Board before working as U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton's Chief of Staff and high-ranking Counselor for State from 2004 to 2009 and then again immediately after leaving the U.S. State Department.
195. Bruce Lindsey was named an unindicted co-conspirator in a case in which Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr alleged that Lindsey had directed a pair of Arkansas bankers, Herby Branscum Jr. and Robert M. Hill, to conceal large cash withdrawals used to finance get-out-the-vote efforts in Clinton's 1990 gubernatorial campaign. Lindsey was also the person who, as a former law partner of Defendant Hillary Clinton at The Rose Law Firm, became Deputy White House Counsel during the Clinton administration. Among other sordid criminal enterprises on behalf of Defendants Hillary and Bill Clinton, he was encharged by Defendant Hillary Clinton, George Stephanopoulos and James Carville (aka "The War Room"), with threatening – and indeed did threaten – several women who were material witnesses in the Paula Jones and Monica Lewinsky scandals, all of whom claimed to have been sexually harassed or allegedly raped by Defendant Bill Clinton or have been involved in a sexual affair with Defendant Bill Clinton. Their names are Gennifer Flowers, Dolly Kyle Browning, Juanita Broaddrick and Kathleen Wiley. Lindsey threatened to destroy them if they testified or talked to authorities.

196. As The Washington Post explained of Defendant The Clinton Foundations' Chairman Bruce Lindsey in 1998: "Whenever President Clinton finds himself in trouble, Bruce Lindsey is on the job, the seemingly permanent commander-in-chief of the Clinton shovel brigade."²⁷ "Former Senate Whitewater committee counsel Robert J. Giuffra Jr. called Lindsey 'the go-to guy for taking care of all the really serious problems' in the administration, from securities litigation to Whitewater." Id.

Continuing Conspiracy to Conceal, Withhold, and Destroy Official Records

197. Plaintiff requests discovery to further establish the facts and violations herein in addition to the facts known at this time.
198. However, the continuing conspiracy and on-going crimes are demonstrated by the past revelations of similar schemes orchestrated by Defendant Hillary Clinton
199. After the September 11, 2012, terrorist attack on the U.S. Consulate in Benghazi, Libya, Defendant Hillary Clinton's Chief of Staff, Cheryl Mills ordered Gregory Hicks to withhold testimony from a Congressional investigation led by Rep. Jason Chaffetz (R-UT). Gregory Hicks was Deputy Chief of Mission in Libya at the time of the 2012 terrorist attacks in Benghazi, and thus the highest-ranking surviving official who had been in country during the attack after the death of Ambassador Chris Stevens, who was in direct contact with Ambassador Stevens during the events.

("There is no end to which Bruce wouldn't go for the president," said Bill Burton, a fellow Arkansan and former White House colleague. "There are things Bruce would do for the president that nobody else on Earth would do, and Bruce wouldn't even think twice about it.")

200. Thus, similar to the concealed emails in this case, Cheryl Mills obstructed a Congressional investigation by the House Oversight Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives by ordering a key witness – as a subordinate employee – to withhold material testimony from a lawfully-convened body exercising oversight authority of the U.S. Congress under the U.S. Constitution.
201. The same Cheryl Mills now serves on the Board of Directors of Defendant The Clinton Foundation after being Chief of Staff at the U.S. Department of State.
202. Cheryl Mills earlier was a member of a much-smaller Board of Directors of The Clinton Foundation for many years before becoming Chief of Staff and Counsel at State.
203. Previously, Hillary Clinton orchestrated for her husband, then President Bill Clinton, the sale of seats on international trade missions sponsored by the U.S. Department of Commerce in return for campaign donations and personal gratuities.
204. In that scandal, Clinton Commerce Department documents were also destroyed, at the direction of Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton, and those documents would have shown that Defendant Hillary Clinton's and Defendant Bill Clinton's personal involvement in this criminal enterprise of outright receiving and soliciting bribery in return for government actions.
205. That case, also before Judge Royce C. Lamberth, resulted in nearly a $1 Million USD judgment against the Clinton Commerce Department, as it revealed the destruction of documents requested under FOIA and a myriad of false statements. Judicial Watch v. U.S. Department of Commerce, Case No. 96-0331 (D.D.C.) (J. Royce C. Lamberth).

206. To this day, many documents related to the Commerce Department scandal have never been found or produced and therefore the criminal enterprise is continuing.

207. Defendant Bill Clinton willingly permitted the Communist Chinese to obtain the technology for solid-fueled missiles with deadly-accurate, computerized guidance systems and multiple warheads in exchange for donations to the Democratic National Committee.

208. Defendant Bill Clinton also permitted the missile technology and nuclear secrets to be essentially sold to the Chinese. Defendant Hillary and Bill Clinton sold Commerce Department missions for campaign donations for the Clinton/Gore 1996 Presidential campaign.

209. At the direction of Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton, Commerce Department was also complicit in the destruction of documents to get the Defendant Clintons off the hook. Judicial Watch v. U.S. Department of Commerce, Case No. 95-0133 (D.D.C. July 29, 2005).

210. This type of obstruction of justice is part and parcel to the Defendants' way of operating, including Defendant Clintons' sales of sleep-overs in the Lincoln Bedroom of The White House, the Clintons' sale of Presidential pardons in return for campaign donations including to Marc Rich,²⁸ and other criminals, and President Bill Clinton's declaring as a national monument the world's largest reserve of the world's cleanest-burning coal as a quid pro quo in return for admittedly illegal campaign donations²⁹ from Indonesian businessman James Riady. Riady controls the world's second-largest reserves of the cleanest-burning coal and therefore directly benefitted on a vast scale, obtaining a world monopoly, from the Clintons creating the Grand-Staircase Escalante National Monument.³⁰

211. As support and strong factual grounds to substantiate Plaintiff's allegations, Defendants Hillary Clinton and Bill Clinton and the other actors have continued an on-going conspiracy to systematically, methodically, continuously, and persistently conceal, misfile and mishandle, withhold, and destroy official governmental records and information to further their own private interests, often financial interests involving extremely large sums of money, and often despite the records being under subpoena.
212. Many of the official government documents requested under FOIA, under subpoena from authorities, and/or ordered to be produced by a court from the Clinton team have still never been produced and still being withheld and concealed to this day.
213. On December 9, 1999, Judicial Watch presented sworn evidence before Judge Lamberth in Alexander v. FBI, et. al, Case No. 1:96-cv-02123, that:

The White House Counsel's Office, which is effectively run by Hillary Clinton, has employed a strategy of obstructing discovery in the $90 million Filegate class action lawsuit to get the Clintons beyond the next election. In a startling sworn declaration of December 7, 1999 (Pearl Harbor Day), Sheryl L. Hall, a former White House computer specialist who now is Judicial Watch's client - Mrs. Hall having defected when she refused to do illegal acts at The White House for Mrs. Clinton - swears that Ms. Michelle Peterson and other lawyers of The White House Counsel's Office told her "that our strategy' for the Filegate lawsuit was to 'stall' because 'we had just a couple more years to go.'³¹

214. Cheryl Mills was at that time a key actor in The White House Counsel's Office and Hillary Clinton's "right hand man."
215. In July 2000, the same Cheryl Mills (working at The White House with Bruce Lindsey) in addition to Marc Lindsay, were ordered deposed by the Honorable Royce C. Lamberth of this Court over an estimated 1.8 Million emails (two years' worth) missing from the archives of The White House.
216. The missing email records were under subpoena at the time.
217. Whistleblowers who were victims of having their FBI files illegally obtained and their privacy violated by Defendants Bill and Hillary Clinton, disclosed to Plaintiffs' legal counsel, the undersigned attorney Larry Klayman, that computer contractors had been threatened to keep the major gaps in email records that were under subpoena secret.
218. Judge Lamberth ordered extended discovery as part of the discovery phase of a $90 Million USD class-action "Filegate" lawsuit brought against the Executive Office of the President by Judicial Watch. Defendant Hillary Clinton was also named as a defendant. Alexander v. FBI, et al., Civil Action Nos. 96-2123 / 97-1288 (RCL).
219. When The White House computer contractor Betty Lambuth and her colleague Cheryl Hall discovered the hidden "lost" email communications, high-level White House officials instructed her to keep silent about the hidden emails or face dismissal. Ms.

Lambuth and her colleague Sheryl A. Hall, were threatened with death if they talked. A list of over eighty (80) mysteriously deceased witnesses, whistleblowers and others during the Clinton administration related to scandals involving the Clintons was placed upon their office chairs as a warning to keep their mouths shut.

220. These actions against Lambuth and Hall are violations of 18 U.S.C. § 1503 (obstruction of justice), 18 U.S.C. § 1510 (obstruction of criminal investigations), 18 U.S.C. § 1512 (tampering with a witness, victim, or an informant), and 18 U.S.C. § 1513 (retaliating against a witness, victim, or an informant), each violation of each statute being punishable by more than one year in jail.

222. In circumstances almost identical to the instant case, Judge Lamberth ordered the missing emails reconstructed, searched, and produced as responsive.

223. Ultimately, Judge Lamberth ruled on April 3, 2008, that the emails had been reconstructed sufficiently. The opinion noted that “[m]illions of e-mails that were erroneously not captured by ARMS were restored into a searchable format, and thousands of e-mails were individually examined pursuant to this Court’s Orders,” Mem. Op., at 63 (April 3, 2008).

224. Similarly, independent Counsel Robert Fiske (later succeeded by Kenneth Starr) subpoenaed all records relating to the Castle Grande and Whitewater Development Corporation and Defendant Hillary Clinton’s related work at The Rose Law Firm, especially her billing records for her work at The Rose Law Firm.

225. The billing records were clearly withheld from the grand jury and independent counsel. Eighteen (18) months after being subpoenaed, the records mysteriously appeared on a flower table in the Presidential Residence in The White House.
226. Defendant Hillary Clinton clearly lied about the location and subsequent mysterious appearance of the billing records in The White House residential area.
227. Independent Counsel Robert Ray's final report found that a jury could conclude that Defendant Clinton had the billing records all along, but he said "the evidence was insufficient to obtain and sustain a conviction beyond a reasonable doubt," before a District of Columbia jury, which would be predominately pro-Clinton and Democrat. The Wall Street Journal's editorial comment was, "In a strictly legal sense, the Ray report is proof of how much a determined president can get away with."
228. During 2013, around the same time that Defendant Hillary Clinton was still U.S. Secretary of State, Defendant The Clinton Foundation received over $2 Million USD in donations from just one Chinese billionaire Wang Wenliang alone, with close ties to the Chinese government, who was a delegate to China's parliament, the National People's Congress.³²
229. But, earlier, as confirmed by Bob Woodward at The Washington Post,³³
- A Justice Department investigation into improper political fund-raising activities has uncovered evidence that representatives of the People's Republic of China sought to direct contributions from foreign sources to the Democratic National Committee before the 1996 presidential campaign, officials familiar with the inquiry said.

³² "Chinese company pledged $2 million to Clinton Foundation in 2013," Julianna Goldman, CBS News, March 16, 2015, <http://www.cbsnews.com/news/chinese-company-pledged-2-million-to-clinton-foundation-in-2013/>

³³ "Chinese Embassy Role In Contributions Probed," Bob Woodward and Brian Duffy, The Washington Post, February 13, 1997, accessible at: <http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-srv/politics/special/campfin/stories/china1.htm>

The information gives the Justice Department inquiry what is known as a foreign counterintelligence component, elevating the seriousness of the fund-raising controversy, according to some officials.

The evidence relating to the Chinese government led Justice Department lawyers and FBI executives to increase the number of FBI special agents working on a special investigative task force from a handful to 25, including several specialists in foreign counterintelligence investigations, sources said. . .

230. In the mid-1990's, China was developing intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBM's) capable of landing thermonuclear warheads on U.S. cities on the U.S. mainland or in domestic variations (the design and technology being extremely similar) placing satellites in orbit.³⁴

231. As confirmed by reports in The New York Times,³⁵ Bernard Leon Schwartz, CEO of Loral Space & Communications, donated $1.3 Million USD to President Clinton's election campaigns and Democrat campaigns during six years in the 1990s:

But at a glittering White House dinner on Feb. 5, there was something that Schwartz, who is Loral's chairman, desperately wanted: a quick decision approving the launching of a Loral satellite aboard a Chinese rocket later that month. Schwartz wanted to plead the case that his company was at risk of losing millions of dollars if Clinton did not act expeditiously. Schwartz had intended to raise the issue with Samuel Berger, the president's national security adviser, but could not find him among those gathered in the East Room to honor Prime Minister Tony Blair of Britain, a gala whose guest list included luminaries like John Kennedy Jr. and Barbra Streisand.

232. The New York Times further reported:

In a 1994 memorandum, The White House deputy chief of staff, Harold Ickes, wrote to Clinton about fund-raising. "I have it on very good authority that Schwartz is prepared to do anything he can for the administration," he wrote.

Two years later, there was something that Schwartz wanted -- the transfer of satellite export approval from the State Department to the Commerce Department.

233. On November 11, 1996, Schwartz got what he was asking for: Defendant President Bill Clinton issued executive order 12981 to gut export controls on encryption items and also transfer decision-making over high-tech export controls to the U.S. Commerce Department.

234. As a result of this quid pro quo government action by then President Defendant Bill Clinton and similar waivers for Hughes Electronics, all paid for by campaign donations illegally³⁶ funneled to the Clinton campaigns, China obtained advanced missile guidance technology.

235. Before this sale of nuclear missile technology to China in return for campaign donations, China's rockets were failing.

236. After the Clintons sale of the nation's national security to its enemies for their own personal benefit, China gained the ability to drop nuclear bombs almost anywhere in the United States at will by missile.

237. And The New York Times further reported:

Schwartz met Clinton at a small political dinner in Manhattan in the spring of 1992. . . . Another prominent Clinton official who paid attention to Schwartz was [U.S. Commerce Secretary Ron] Brown. In 1994, Schwartz was one of 24 executives on Brown's plane to China.

Two months before the late summer trip, Schwartz wrote a check for $100,000 to the Democratic National Committee. He denied there was any link.

On the plane, Schwartz said he asked Brown if he could arrange a private meeting with Zhu Gao Feng, the vice minister of China's Ministry of Post and Telecommunications. In a meeting with Chinese telecommunications officials, Brown publicly praised Loral's Globalstar cellular telephone system. . . .

For Bernard Leon Schwartz, Beijing was a long way from Bensonhurst, a neighborhood in Brooklyn where he grew up grateful to the largess of Democrats.

238. In July 1996, then President Defendant Bill Clinton signed a waiver for Loral to export a fully operational, encrypted, satellite control station to China. According to the General Accounting Office, Defendant Bill Clinton authorized the direct export of an encrypted air-defense communications system directly to the Chinese Air Force.
239. In November 1994, Motorola wrote the U.S. State Department requesting to export encrypted radios to China. The Motorola letter clearly noted that Defendant Bill Clinton was signing waivers for other American companies.
240. On May 11, 1998, Bernard Schwartz, former CEO of Loral Corporation and new CEO of Globalstar satellite company, announced that China Telecom has agreed to invest $37.5 Million USD to become a full partner with Globalstar, the Beijing Review reports.
241. As a result, in this on-going conspiracy by the Clintons and their key staff including mainly Cheryl Mills, they are willing to sell to communist China the ability to destroy U.S. cities with nuclear warheads carried on ICBM's made accurate with previously-secret U.S. military technology.

242. After they sold some of America’s most sensitive military secrets for campaign donations and other illegal gratuities, there is nothing that is not for sale by the Clintons to the foreign governments and foreign businesses and individuals who donate to Defendant The Clinton Foundation or to the Clintons personally.

The RICO Enterprise

243. For any Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organization case, it is important to distinguish between legitimate organizations, businesses, and even government offices and the abuse of those entities for illegal purposes by the unofficial, corrupt “enterprise.”

244. This pattern of illegal activities committed by the Defendants, the “Predicate Acts,” discussed below, were done with the purpose of financial gain and were done within the past ten (10) years and continuing.

245. By the acts alleged herein, Defendants, each and every one of them, jointly and severally, have aided and abetted and conspired to violate FOIA and other laws, through their ongoing criminal enterprise as set forth below.

246. The law presumes generally that a person intends the obvious results of their actions.

Predicate Criminal Acts of Anticipatory Obstruction of Justice

247. Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting spoliation of evidence to avoid a subpoena.

248. Sometimes called “anticipatory obstruction of justice,” 18 U.S.C. § 1519 requires that:

Whoever knowingly alters, destroys, mutilates, conceals, covers up, falsifies, or makes a false entry in any record, document, or tangible object with the intent to impede, obstruct, or influence the investigation or proper administration of any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States or any case filed under title 11, or in relation to or contemplation of any such matter or case, shall be fined under this title, imprisoned not more than 20 years, or both.

249. According to Professor Rotunda's analysis, "The Justice Department manual advises that section 1519 makes prosecution much easier because it covers "any matters" or "in relation to or contemplation of" any matters." It adds, "No corrupt persuasion is required."

250. The establishment of the private email server was and is to evade lawful authority in "the investigation or proper administration of any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States" with the purpose of evading investigation having been announced by Hillary Clinton back in 2000.

Predicate Criminal Acts of Conspiracy to Conceal and Remove Official Records

251. Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting concealment, removal, or destructions – or attempts to do so – of public records.

252. 18 U.S. Code § 2071 requires:

(a) Whoever willfully and unlawfully conceals, removes, mutilates, obliterates, or destroys, or attempts to do so, or, with intent to do so takes and carries away any record, proceeding, map, book, paper, document, or other thing, filed or deposited with any clerk or officer of any court of the United States, or in any public office, or with any judicial or public officer of the United States, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than three years, or both.

(b) Whoever, having the custody of any such record, proceeding, map, book, document, paper, or other thing, willfully and unlawfully conceals, removes, mutilates, obliterates, falsifies, or destroys the same, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and shall forfeit his office and be disqualified from holding any office under the United States. As used in this subsection, the term “office” does not include the office held by any person as a retired officer of the Armed Forces of the United States.

Predicate Criminal Acts of Conspiracy to Defraud United States

253. Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and practice and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting of conspiracy to defraud the United States.

254. 18 U.S.C. § 371 provides:

If two or more persons conspire either to commit any offense against the United States, or to defraud the United States, or any agency thereof in any manner or for any purpose, and one or more of such persons do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

Predicate Criminal Violations of Federal Mail Fraud Statute, 18 U.S.C. § 1341

255. The Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and practice and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting mail fraud.

256. Defendants acted in criminal violation of the federal mail fraud statute under 18 U.S.C. § 1341. 18 U.S.C. § 1341 provides:

a. Whoever, having devised or intending to devise any scheme or artifice to defraud, or for obtaining money or property by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, or to sell, dispose of, loan, exchange, alter, give away, distribute, supply, or furnish or procure for unlawful use any counterfeit or spurious coin, obligation, security, or other article, or anything represented to be or intimated or held out to be such counterfeit or spurious article, for the purpose of executing such scheme or artifice or attempting so to do, places in any post office or authorized depository for mail matter, any matter or thing whatever to be sent or delivered by the Postal Service, or deposits or causes to be deposited any matter or thing whatever to be sent or delivered by any private or commercial interstate carrier, or takes or receives therefrom, any such matter or thing, or knowingly causes to be delivered by mail or such carrier according to the direction thereon, or at the place at which it is directed to be delivered by the person to whom it is addressed, any such matter or thing, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 20 years, or both. If the violation occurs in relation to, or involving any benefit authorized, transported, transmitted, transferred, disbursed, or paid in connection with, a presidentially declared major disaster or emergency (as those terms are defined in section 102 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5122)), or affects a financial institution, such person shall be fined not more than $1,000,000 or imprisoned not more than 30 years, or both.

257. Defendants devised or intended to devise a scheme or artifice meant to defraud and/or for obtain money or property from illicit payments disguised as donations.

258. Defendants utilized false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, and/or promises in order to defraud and/or obtain money from illicit payments disguised as donations.

259. In order to achieve or attempt to achieve the fraud described in the preceding paragraphs, Defendants sent correspondence and other documents that were sent or delivered by the Postal Service and by wire.

260. Violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1341 is felony punishable by 30 years of imprisonment and a fine of $1,000,000 USD.

Predicate Criminal Violations of Federal Wire Fraud Statute, 18 U.S.C. § 1343

261. The Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and practice and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting wire fraud.

262. Defendants further acted in criminal violation of the federal wire fraud statute under 18 U.S.C. 1343. 18 U.S.C. § 1343 provides:

a. Whoever, having devised or intending to devise any scheme or artifice to defraud, or for obtaining money or property by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, transmits or causes to be transmitted by means of wire, radio, or television communication in interstate or foreign commerce, any writings, signs, signals, pictures, or sounds for the purpose of executing such scheme or artifice, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than 20 years, or both. If the violation occurs in relation to, or involving any benefit authorized, transported, transmitted, transferred, disbursed, or paid in connection with, a presidentially declared major disaster or emergency (as those terms are defined in section 102 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (42 U.S.C. 5122)), or affects a financial institution, such person shall be fined not more than $1,000,000 or imprisoned not more than 30 years, or both.

263. Defendants devised or intended to devise a scheme or artifice meant to defraud and/or to obtain money or property from illicit payments disguised as donations and other forms of gratuities.

264. Defendants utilized false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, and/or promises in order to defraud and/or obtain money from illicit payments disguised as donations and other forms of gratuities.

265. Defendants transmitted or caused to be transmitted by means of wire, radio, or television communication in interstate or foreign commerce, writings, signs, signals, pictures, or sounds for the purpose of executing such scheme or artifice when they transmitted telephone and cellular telephone calls, documents, facsimiles, emails, instant messages, and any other form of communication.

266. Violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1343 is felony punishable by 20 years of imprisonment and a fine of $1 Million USD.

Predicate Criminal Acts of False Statements

267. The Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and practice and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting false statements to officials of the U.S. Government in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1001. This statute provides:

(a) except as otherwise provided in this section, whoever, in any manner within the jurisdiction of the executive, legislative, or judicial branch of the Government of the United States, knowingly and willfully – (1) falsifies, conceals, or covers up by any trick scheme, or device a material fact; (2) makes any materially false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or representation; or (3) makes or uses any false writing or document knowing the same to contain any materially false, fictitious, or fraudulent statement or entry; shall be fined under this title, imprisoned not more than 5 years or, if the offense involves international or domestic terrorism (as defined in section 2331), imprisoned not more than 8 years, or both

268. Given that Defendant Hillary Clinton admits that she did not return 30,490 emails relating to official business until two (2) years after her separation from the U.S. Department of State on February 1, 2013, it is admitted that Defendant Hillary Clinton lied on her Form 109, and perjured herself, attesting that she had already returned all official State records.

269. Congressional committees and investigators have repeatedly issued subpoenas for records of State on many topics which required a search of U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton's email messages.

270. Many FOIA requests, including those by the Plaintiff, required a search of Defendant Hillary Clinton's emails.

271. Cheryl Mills and Defendant Hillary Clinton have repeatedly certified that they had no responsive documents to the subpoenas and FOIA requests, when in fact Defendant Hillary Clinton's email messages in her server in her private mansion in Chappaqua, New York were not searched for responsive documents and almost certainly do contain responsive documents.

272. Mills' and Defendant Clinton's statements to Congressional investigators and State FOIA officers that they had searched all potentially responsive documents and produced all responsive documents were false in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1001.

Predicate Act Criminal Violation of Mishandling of Classified Information

273. The Defendants could be charged and convicted of multiple, related violations of law which form a pattern and practice and which violations are each potentially punishable by more than one year in jail constituting gross negligence in the handling of classified information.

274. 18 U.S.C. § 793(f) provides:

(f) Whoever, being entrusted with or having lawful possession or control of any document, writing, code book, signal book, sketch, photograph, photographic negative, blueprint, plan, map, model, instrument, appliance, note, or information, relating to the national defense, (1) through gross negligence permits the same to be removed from its proper place of custody or delivered to anyone in violation of his trust, or to be lost, stolen, abstracted, or destroyed, or (2) having knowledge that the same has been illegally removed from its proper place of custody or delivered to anyone in violation of its trust, or lost, or stolen, abstracted, or destroyed, and fails to make prompt report of such loss, theft, abstraction, or destruction to his superior officer--

Shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both.

275. Moreover, 18 U.S.C. § 793(g) provides:

(g) If two or more persons conspire to violate any of the foregoing provisions of this section, and one or more of such persons do any act to effect the object of the conspiracy, each of the parties to such conspiracy shall be subject to the punishment provided for the offense which is the object of such conspiracy.

276. Here, the Defendants set up an email computer file server in Chappaqua, New York, apparently in Defendant Hillary Clinton's mansion, through which all of Defendant Hillary Clinton's emails for her official business as U.S. Secretary of State were processed.

277. That email service was subject to hacking by the simplest of electronic surveillance and certainly by the intelligence services of foreign governments.

278. Defendants placed classified information in a non-secure location in their mansion in Chappaqua, New York, from where it is a near-certainty, according to computer experts, that all of Defendant Hillary Clinton's emails were obtained by private and/or foreign government "hackers" (spies).

V. CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Misappropriation of Chattel Property (Common law crime)

279. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

280. Pursuant to FOIA as a federal law, the Plaintiff has a vested property right to a copy of the records responsive to Plaintiff's FOIA request.

281. Plaintiff was deprived of the records as personal property (chattel) to which Plaintiff is entitled.

306. Defendants, each and every one of them, violated the constitutional rights of the Plaintiff and those similarly situated by intentionally violating the rights of all those within the United States.

307. By reason of the wrongful conduct of the Defendants, each and every one of them, jointly and severally, Plaintiff has suffered harm in the form of having his rights violated under FOIA, his business and property rights have been violated, and his loss of his rights and property under the due process clause of the U.S. Constitution.

First Amendment Violation

(Bivens v. VI Unknown Named Agents of Federal Bureau of Narcotics)

309. Plaintiff repeats and re-alleges each and every allegation of the foregoing paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

310. Defendant Hillary Clinton, Defendant Bill Clinton, and Defendant The Clinton Foundation, acting in their official capacities and personally, abridge and violated Plaintiff's First Amendment right of freedom of speech and association by significantly disallowing the public and Plaintiff discord to discuss and disseminate to the public and citizenry in the public interest what the Defendants have done and will do with regard to Iran and their criminal enterprises by not providing the misappropriated records and documents which Plaintiff is entitled to under FOIA law.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment against Defendants, each and every one of them, for the following:

- I. For injunctive relief that a forensic computer expert take immediate possession of the server (computer file server) maintained by Hillary Clinton, possibly together with her husband Bill Clinton used for operating her electronic message (email) account, address, and/or communications, believed to be housed (based on its published IP electronic address) in Chappaqua, New York. In equity, for fairness to all parties, and to minimize plausible objections, the Court should order a forensic expert to serve as the Court's expert, at the Defendants' expense, answerable to the Court as a neutral actor.

- II. For injunctive relief that a forensic computer expert inspect and review the server and its contents, including possibly-recoverable deleted emails, to locate any and all email messages which may be responsive to the Plaintiff's Freedom of Information Act requests and/or qualify as official records, official business, or documents that should be the property of the U.S. Department of State, and also for further injunctive relief that any email messages which are truly private (according to the Court's understanding not by the Defendants' self-serving definition) be maintained as confidential and be returned to the Clintons.
- III. For the Bivens violations, an award of compensatory and actual damages, punitive damages in an amount to be determined by the jury, equitable relief, reasonable attorneys' fees, pre-judgment interest, post-interest and costs, and an award that this Court deems just and proper.
- IV. For the RICO violations, an award of trebled damages in an amount to be determined by the jury and as consistent with 18 U.S.C. § 1964(c), compensatory and actual damages in an amount to be determined by the jury, reasonable attorneys' fees, pre-judgment interest, post-interest, costs and an award that this Court deems just and proper.
- V. An order for Defendants to expeditiously produce, by a date certain, any and all non-exempt records responsive to Plaintiff's Freedom of Information Act requests and a Vaughn index of any responsive records withheld under claim of exemption;
- VI. An order enjoining Defendants from continuing to withhold any and all non-exempt records responsive to Plaintiff's Freedom of Information Act requests;
- VII. An order pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2071(b) that Defendant Hillary Clinton be disqualified from holding any office under the United States.
- VIII. Plaintiff prays for in excess of $5 Million USD in compensatory damages and in excess of $100 Million USD in punitive damages in an amount to be determined by the jury, not including the trebled damages for the RICO causes of action.
- IX. Attorney's fees and other litigation costs reasonably incurred in this action pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(E) and any other provision of the Freedom of Information Act.

- X. Attorney's fees and other litigation costs reasonably incurred in this action pursuant to the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act and any other provision of law.
- XI. Any other relief the Court deems just or proper.
